Dear General:

I received your three notes on the various personnel matters which you forwarded on 30 January 1951. I had already taken up the Brown case and will let you know if and when there is sufficient interest to ask you to send him down here. Of course, if he is in town, I shall be pleased to see him.

The [redacted] case looks very interesting, and I have asked [redacted] to determine which of several offices might have first crack at it.

On [redacted] since he is serving in Korea, there probably isn't much we can do at the moment, but I have asked Matt Baird, the head of Training, to consider the case in connection with his long-range programs, which may include spot requisitions for qualified people from the Army.

Sincerely yours,

LAWRENCE R. HOUSTON
General Counsel
